During this intensive research seminar we will critically examine the politics, theory, and social networks related to solidarity economy movements. The term “solidarity economy” refers to a wide set of initiatives around the world that seek alternatives to mainstream capitalism by organizing economic activity around principles of social solidarity, cooperation, and community-based development. Examples include the fair trade movement, eco-villages, consumer and producer cooperatives, and participatory budgeting, among other related initiatives. Some of these initiatives are conceived as radical alternatives to mainstream capitalism. Others are seen to offer niches of alternative economic practices within a larger capitalist framework. Over the past several years several national, regional, and global networks have been formed around the idea of social and solidarity economy. In this course we will be analyzing the coherence (or incoherence) of these networks and movements. We will compare and contrast different conceptual frameworks and terminologies for describing alternative economies. We will examine efforts to map solidarity economy practices and we will examine examples drawn from a variety of countries and localities. This seminar is designed to involve a considerable amount of collaborative research.

Classroom Etiquette and Protocols:

- Be respectful of other students, but understand that critique can also be a sign of respect. Do not be afraid to challenge other students and the professor, but do so respectfully.
- NO TEXT-MESSAGING in class.
- Any student who misses more than three weeks of class may face dismissal from the course.
- All assignments must be completed to pass the course.

Assignments:

1) 1-page response essays for weekly readings and for films
2) 5-7 page essay on the concept solidarity economy
3) Brief classroom presentation on solidarity economy initiative
4) 3-5 page research proposal
5) PowerPoint classroom presentation on research
6) Final Paper with Annotated Bibliography

Paper should be 7-8000 words (approx. 20-25 pages), not including the bibliography. It should be formatted according to the Chicago Manual of Style. Paper topics will be coordinated so as to avoid too much overlap and to ensure a good coverage of the issues for classroom presentations. Students will be encouraged to think of the entire course as a giant collaborative research project.
Evaluation (approximate):

- Participation, response essays, short presentation: 20%
- 5-7 page essay: 15%
- PowerPoint presentation: 15%
- Annotated Bibliography and Research Proposal: 10%
- Research Paper: 40%

FILM SCREENINGS
This course will involve several documentary film screenings outside of class. These are required and are intended as a complement for the course readings and in-class discussions. If you are not able to attend one or more of the screenings, you are responsible for watching them on your own. Copies of the films will be made available at the Magill library reserve desk.

Books for purchase

All other readings will be available on Moodle or on the internet via web addresses listed on the syllabus. Additionally, a webpage on the solidarity economy has been prepared for this course. https://www.haverford.edu/politicalscience/solidarityeconomy/

NOTE: Haverford College is committed to supporting the learning process for all students. Please contact me as soon as possible if you are having difficulties in the course. There are also many resources on campus available to you as a student, including the Office of Academic Resources (https://www.haverford.edu/oar/) and the Office of Access and Disability Services (https://www.haverford.edu/access-and-disability-services/). If you think you may need accommodations because of a disability, you should contact Access and Disability Services at bc-ads@haverford.edu. If you have already been approved to receive academic accommodations and would like to request accommodations in this course because of a disability, please meet with me privately at the beginning of the semester (ideally within the first two weeks) with your verification letter.
Section 1: Theorizing Solidarity Economies & Social Transformation

Jan 26  Social Solidarity Economy: Definitions and Networks

The Human Economy (213-35, 284-92)
Interview with Luis Razeto (skim)
Lester M. Salamon and Helmlt K. Anileier, “The challenge of definition: Thirteen realities in search of a concept”
Ethan Miller, “Other Economies are Possible,” Dollars & Sense, July/August 2006.
Frank Moulaert and Oana Ailenei “Social Economy, Third Sector and Solidarity Relations: A Conceptual Synthesis from History to Present” Urban Studies, 42, No. 11, 2037-2053
Michelle Williams, “the solidarity economy and social transformation” in The Solidarity Economy Alternative: Emerging Theory and Practice (37-63)

5-7 page essay due in class (no weekly response paper due)

Feb 2  Envisioning Real Utopias I
Erik Olin Wright, Envisioning Real Utopias, Chapters 1-4

Feb 9  Envisioning Real Utopias II
Erik Olin Wright, Envisioning Real Utopias, Chapters 5-8

Feb 16  Envisioning Real Utopias III

Proposal due Friday February 19
Feb 23  Diverse Economies and Post-Capitalist Politics
J. K. Gibson-Graham, A Post-Capitalist Politics, xix -78 (Especially Chapter 3)

J. K. Gibson-Graham, Jenny Cameron, and Stephen Healy, Take Back the Economy: an Ethical Guide for Transforming Our Communities (Selections)

Presentations of Research Proposals

---

Section 2: Solidarity Economies in Practice

Mar 1:  Introducing Cooperatives
John Restakis, Humanizing the Economy, Chapter 2 (27-54)
Johnston Birchall. People-Centred businesses: Co-operatives, mutual and the idea of membership.
   Chapters 1 & 2 (1-16, 20-42)
Carl Ratner, “Rethinking the politics of the mainstream co-op movement” in Social Economy in China and the World (41-58)

4-13 March: Spring Break

Mar 15  African American Cooperatives

Mar 22  International Perspectives

LATIN AMERICA

BRAZIL

ITALY
“Economics, Cooperation, and Employee Ownership: The Emilia-Romagna Model”
http://dept.kent.edu/oeoc/publicationsresearch/winter05-06.pdf
Devi Sacchettto and Marco Semenzin, “Workers’ cooperatives in Italy: between solidarity and autocratic centralism” in Social Economy in China and the World (135-155)

SOUTH AFRICA

CANADA
Monica Juarez Adeler. “Enabling policy environments to support cooperative development: A comparative experience”. Winnipeg Inner City Research Alliance, University of Winnipeg, Winnipeg, MB. 2009

Mar 29
Independent Research
Attend Swarthmore Conference

Apr 5
Solidarity and Food

Community Gardens
Laura Lawson, City Bountiful: A Century of Community Gardening in America (287-302)

Food Cooperatives
Anne Meis Knupfer, Food Co-ops in America: Communities, Consumption, and Economic Democracy
- Introduction (only pp 1-6)
- Chapter 2: Food Cooperatives, 1930s-1950s (31-46)(skim)
• Chapter 7: Food Cooperatives, 1960s-1990s (129-140)
• Chapter 10: Food Cooperatives in the Twin Cities (175-189)
• Epilogue: the Age of the “Organic-Industrial Complex” (190-203)
Andrew Zitcer, “Food Coops and the Paradox of Exclusivity”

Food Sovereignty
Michael Lewis and Pat Conroy, The Resilience Imperative (230-240)

Apr 12

Solidarity Finance, Alternative Currencies, and Public Policies
Robert Eletto and Marianna Pavlovskaya, “Geographies of ethical finance: Credit Unions in New York City”
Jérome Blanc, “Community and Complementary Currencies” in The Human Economy (303-313)
“Miguel” Yasuyuki Hirota, “Complementary Currencies as a Method to Promote the Solidarity Economy” in Solidarity Economy 1 (75-86)
Selected readings on Cleveland’s “Evergreen Initiative” and Cincinnati’s Union – Cooperative model (See Moodle)

SECTION THREE: RESEARCH & PRESENTATIONS

Apr 19

Presentations:
Readings to be determined by students in conversation with professor

Apr 26

Presentations:
Readings to be determined by students in conversation with professor